

Section 3

Out-of-State Colleges and Universities Attended by First-Time Freshmen from Nebraska, Fall 2006

In fall 2006, 3,105 first-time freshmen from Nebraska enrolled at degree-granting colleges and universities across the United States. These students included 2,586 freshmen who went on to college within 12 months of graduating from high school and 519 freshmen who delayed starting college for more than a year after they finished high school. An additional 72 students from Nebraska started college at non-degree-granting, out-of-state schools in fall 2006.

This section provides detailed information to answer the question, “What institutions do Nebraskans attend when they go out of state to college?” Emphasis in this section is on the degree-granting, out-of-state colleges and universities that admitted first-time freshmen from Nebraska in fall 2006. Specifically, this section provides detailed information to answer four questions:

- How many degree-granting institutions across the United States enrolled first-time freshmen from Nebraska in fall 2006?
- Where are these degree-granting institutions located?
- Which of these out-of-state institutions attracted the highest numbers of first-time freshmen from Nebraska?
- How many first-time freshmen from Nebraska attended “top-ranked” colleges and universities?

Non-degree-granting schools that enrolled Nebraska-resident, first-time freshmen are also listed at the end of this section.

All data summarized in this section are from the National Center for Education Statistics, Integrated Postsecondary Data System (IPEDS). Reported counts include full-time and part-time students.

Throughout this section, “top-ranked” colleges and universities are identified using the rankings published annually by U.S. News & World Report under the title, “America’s Best Colleges.” The Commission is aware of the controversial nature of these rankings. They are included, due to their popularity and the lack of any other national ranking system.

Number of Degree-Granting Institutions Attended by Nebraska Freshmen

- As shown in Table 3.1 below, the 3,105 Nebraska-resident, first-time freshmen who studied out of state in fall 2006 attended 585 colleges and universities in 49 states and the District of Columbia.

- Table 3.2 below shows that only 23 colleges and universities or 3.9% were attended by 25 or more Nebraska-resident, first-time freshmen in fall 2006. Together, these 23 institutions enrolled 1,408 students or 45.3% of all Nebraska freshmen who attended out-of-state colleges and universities.
- In contrast, 526 colleges and universities or 89.9% were attended by nine or fewer Nebraska-resident, first-time freshmen. Together, these 526 schools attracted 38.7% of the Nebraska freshmen who started college outside of Nebraska.
- Interestingly, 277 colleges and universities or 47.4% of the 585 out-of-state schools attracted only one student per institution, or just 8.9% of the Nebraska-resident, first-time freshmen who studied out of state.

Specific Out-of-State, Degree-Granting Institutions Attended by Nebraska Freshmen

All of the out-of-state, postsecondary institutions attended by Nebraska-resident, first-time freshmen in fall 2006 are listed by state in Tables 3.11 and 3.12 at the end of this section. Table 3.11 lists all of the degree-granting institutions attended by Nebraska-resident, first-time freshmen, while Table 3.12 lists all of the non-degree granting institutions attended by Nebraska-resident, first-time freshmen in fall 2006. Table 3.12 also provides the grand totals for degree- and non-degree-granting, out-of-state institutions.

- Table 3.3 on the next page lists the 20 out-of-state colleges and universities with the highest numbers of first-time freshmen from Nebraska in fall 2006. Together, these institutions attracted 42.9% of the 3,105 freshmen who went out of state to attend degree-granting schools. Additionally, this table includes the categories and ranks of these institutions that are published annually by U.S. News & World Report under the title, “America’s Best Colleges.” The rankings shown in Table 3.3 are from the 2008 edition of “America’s Best Colleges.” U.S. News & World Report does not rank community colleges and online universities.

Institutions ranked by U.S. News & World Report are divided into quarters. Institutions in the top two quarters, or 50% of the schools, are each assigned a numerical ranking. The schools in the third quarter are called “third tier” institutions and those in the fourth quarter are called “fourth tier” institutions. Third and fourth tier institutions are not assigned numerical ranks and are generally listed in alphabetical order. For more information on how the rankings are determined, see “How We Do the Rankings,” by Robert J. Morse and Samuel Flanigan. This article can be found on the U.S. News & World Report website: http://colleges.usnews.rankingsandreviews.com/usnews/edu/college/rankings/about/rank\_brief.php

- As shown on Table 3.3, the two schools with more than 100 Nebraska-resident, first-time freshmen were Iowa Western Community College and Northwest Missouri State University. The remaining 18 schools enrolled 27 to 86 freshmen from Nebraska.
- As also shown in Table 3.3, the University of Phoenix-Online Campus and American Intercontinental University Online enrolled a total of 79 Nebraska-resident, first-time freshmen, accounting for 5.9% of the 1,332 Nebraska freshmen enrolled at the top 20 out-of-state institutions. Students who take courses from these schools are considered to be going out of state even though they may never leave Nebraska because the tuition and fees they pay are to institutions located out of state. As a result, their enrollment is considered as a migration outflow.

Number of Nebraska Students Attending Top-Ranked Colleges and Universities

Since Nebraska is interested in attracting the state's top high school graduates to its own postsecondary institutions, this section focuses on the number of Nebraska-resident, first-time freshmen who attended top-ranking colleges and universities in the United States in fall 2006. The tables on the next four pages list the top nationally and regionally ranked colleges and universities in the United States according to the 2008 edition of "America's Best Colleges" published by U.S. News & World Report.

- As shown in Table 3.4, only 71 Nebraska-resident, first-time freshmen attended the top 20 national universities in fall 2006, accounting for only 2.3% of the 3,105 Nebraskans who traveled out of state to begin their postsecondary education at degree-granting schools.
- Among the 71 students, the highest number (14) chose to attend Washington University in St. Louis.
- As shown in Table 3.5, only 30 Nebraska-resident, first-time freshmen chose to attend any of the highest-ranked liberal arts colleges, and these students accounted for less than 1% of the students who attended out-of-state, degree-granting institutions.
- As also shown in Table 3.5, 17 of the 30 students attended Grinnell College in Iowa, Middlebury College in Vermont and the United States Naval Academy in Maryland.
- Table 3.6 lists the highest-ranking, masters-level universities in the Midwest. This table shows that 103 first-time freshmen from Nebraska attended the highest ranked universities in this category. These students accounted for only 3.3% of the 3,105 Nebraska resident, first-time freshmen who left the state to pursue their postsecondary education. These figures do not include Creighton University, which is the top-ranked school in this category, because it is not an out-of-state institution.
- Among the 103 students at the highest-ranking Midwestern masters-level universities, 77 attended Rockhurst University and Truman State University in Missouri or Drake University in Iowa.
- Table 3.7 lists the highest-ranking, baccalaureate-level universities in the Midwest. This table shows that 66 Nebraska-resident, first-time freshmen attended the schools in this category. These students accounted for 2.1% of the 3,105 Nebraska-resident, first-time freshmen who left the state to pursue their postsecondary education.
- Among the 66 students, 27 attended Northwestern College and 16 attended Buena Vista University, both of which are located in Iowa.
